Conflict Transformation & Peacebuilding Achievements 2023

Outlined above are the key 2023 Shalom-SCCRR, Outputs/Results achieved in 36 conflict locations where the organisation is engaged is implementing Conflict Transformation and Peacebuilding; Schools/Educational Development; Women Empowerment and; Humanitarian interventions.

The metrics of success in our projects product delivery are espoused in the transformative impact we have consistently had on communities.

In 2023, Shalom-SCCRR interventions focused on ending manifest and structural violent conflict, transforming attitudes and behaviors; inculcating tolerance and inclusivity and; strengthening local/indigenous conflict management structures. These interventions have empowered grassroots communities in these violent conflict and marginalized locations to progressively become architects of their own inter-dependent future.

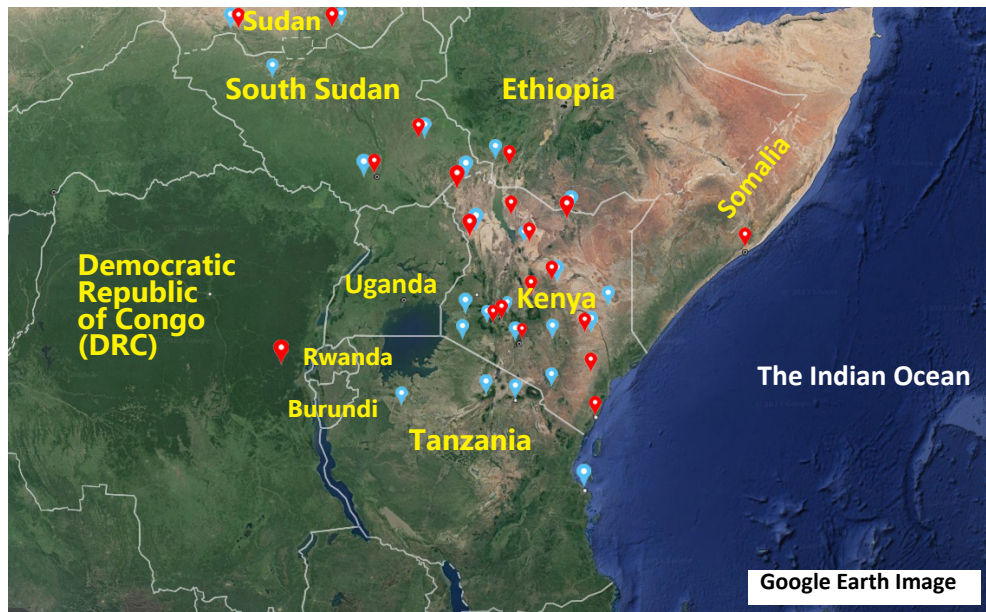

From the Results and Impact of our Peace work, springs the Schools/Educational Development projects which benefit some of the most marginalized children in the world, disadvantaged by extreme poverty and violent conflict.

These projects are the Peace Dividends of Shalom-SCCRR's conflict transformation and peacebuilding interventions.

The Executive Director, Fr. Oliver Noonan MA (PhD Candidate), Shalom-SCCRR engaging Shalom Peace Group on the progress of peacebuilding, school/educational development and other community-based projects that Shalom has been implementing in Samburu County, northern Kenya.

The forum aimed at identifying best strategies for conflict transformation/peacebuilding and sustainable development.

64 School/ Educational Development Projects & Peace Education Achievements 2023

The development of school infrastructure is crucial in promoting peace and stability in communities that face protracted conflicts. Access to quality education and opportunities for learning not only contribute to individual growth and development but also has a positive impact on social cohesion thus making education a long-term dividend for peacebuilding. Shalom-SCRR's School/Educational Development Projects coupled with the Peace Education Syllabus have motivated the emergence of inter-ethnic and inter-religious schools which are serving as important centers for social interaction, inculcating a culture of understanding and tolerance between young people coming from ethnic identities that often manifest very adversarial relationships. This helps to create a culture of peace and reduce the likelihood of conflicts arising based on differences in ethnicity, economy, and religion.

The provision of safe and secure schools in conflict-prone areas has been instrumental in the restoration of a sense of security and normalcy in communities thus promoting increased enrollment rates, especially among children facing the risk of recruitment into extremist and radicalized groups. This can also have a positive impact on the mental and emotional well-being of students and teachers, who are often deeply affected by conflict.

Moreover, Shalom-SCRR's approach to education development continues to play a powerful role in promoting gender equality and empowering women and girls, who are often marginalized and excluded from education opportunities in conflict-affected areas. Access to quality education has broken down gender-based barriers, promoting equality, and contributing to the transformation of deep-seated cultural practices that have traditionally trivialized women's role in the socioeconomic and political progression of society.

Rev. Dr. Patrick Devine, Shalom-SCRR, in August 2023, indicating the foundational beacon for a Shalom-SCRR funded school construction in Turkana County Kenya to help counter the effects of violent conflict, climate change while nurturing socio-economic development. Pupils in Kokuro offloading school/educational materials (desks, books etc.) funded by Shalom.

A delivery of lockers and other items to Nyiro Girls Secondary school, in Samburu County, northern Kenya. This support is meant to enhance the comfort of learners, provide safe space for storage of books and other learning materials.

Rev. Dr. Patrick Devine, Shalom-SCRR International Chairman, joined Ms. Paula Soumaya Domit, a Master's in Public Policy Candidate at the Harvard Kennedy School of Government, witnessing a delivery of school materials funded by Shalom-SCRR, to Enkusero Sampu Primary & Junior Sec. School, located in the semi-arid pastoral area mostly inhabited by the Masai Community, in Kajiado County, Kenya.

St. Peter's Lorgum pupils in Turkana County, northern Kenya, receiving books and other learning materials.

Shalom-SCRR logistics team Delivering Beds, Mattresses and other live-in items to Sasak Primary School in West Pokot, northern Kenya. This support will help these pupils to board in the school thus enhancing their focus to studies. Their focus to learning has often times been hampered by livestock herding duties assigned to them and also by the nomadic lifestyle of the herders of moving place to place in search of pasture and water.

Shalom-SCRR's Ms. Ilhan Ali (MA Candidate), and Mr. Moses Osiro MA, with pupils from Valley Bridge Primary School [located at the interface of Mathare and Kariobangi Slums], facilitating a participatory session to establish conflict causes and the corresponding manifestations within school and community.

Shalom Empowerment Center (SEC) Addressing Violence Against Women and Children Achievements 2023

Two thirds of women in the urban informal settlements have been impacted by violence against women mainly in their families or communities: twice the global average. Marginalized, discriminated against and victims of physical and psychological violence, the situation of these women and girls is further aggravated by the difficulty of accessing formal justice and obtaining reparation. Contributing factors include limited knowledge of their rights; difficulty in accessing public services; improper conduct by security officers-police; personal fear – for example, of the perpetrator; and taboos and social traditions surrounding the issues. In most cases, violence against women is deeply rooted in systemic discrimination, including social and cultural norms that tolerate it and fail to provide support to women and to victims.

In Nairobi's urban informal settlements -(Riruta; Waithaka; Dagoretti; Kibera; Mathare; Kariobangi; Korogocho; Kangemi; Mtego; Kawangware; and Huruma), as well as in marginalized conflict regions in the semiarid terrains where Kenya interfaces with Ethiopia, South Sudan and Uganda, violence against women and children is a complex social problem. Exposure to various forms of harm and living in fear prevents women from fully realizing their potentials, violates their rights and dignity, reduces their wellbeing, and also reducing their contribution to the development of society.

Since the inception of the Shalom Empowerment Center (SEC), in January, 2022, over 2,000 have been empowered with conflict transformation skills, peacebuilding techniques, livelihood resilience capacities, Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) healing approaches and other relevant life skills courses.

In 2023, women participation was remarkably high, that is, 60% of all beneficiaries in Shalom-SCCRR Conflict transformation, Peacebuilding and Development interventions. This was a 17% increase from last year's results.

Through these consistent and strategic Shalom-SCCRR empowerment interventions, women are now able to participate in peace negotiations, community decision making, and to benefit from the local socio-economic opportunities.

A Kenyan Turkana woman migrating to a safer settlement. She lives in an environment threatened by insecurity, and lack of basic human needs. Shalom-SCCRR peace, development and women empowerment interventions, are expanding in these locations.

- 105 Training Workshops completed in 15 conflict environments in urban informal settlements and remote impoverished marginalized locations.
- 2,239 Women from these conflict environments, Empowered with Analytical Skills and Peacebuilding Techniques, for Conflict Transformation and Reconciliation.
- 1,873 Women empowered with Holistic Livelihood Resilience Capacity-Life skills, and other relevant courses and interventions, essential for resolving all forms of manifest and structural violence.
- 60% Women active involvement in Shalom-SCRR local peacebuilding initiatives, a 17% increase compared to 2022 statistics.
- 217 victims of acute violence and consequently suffering from depression, mental health issues, unstable family relationships, physical and psychological trauma, and substance abuse, engaged in holistic and intensive Counseling.

Dr. Patrick Devine, and Mrs. Judy Akedi MA, Women Project Officer, presenting Shalom-SCRR's conflict transformation-peacebuilding-development nexus, and women empowerment interventions framework, to key influential women leaders from the urban informal settlements (Slums). The workshops are conducted at the Shalom Empowerment Center in Nairobi, Kenya.

Shalom-SCRR's Mrs. Judy Akedi MA, Women Project Officer, Ms. Esther Kibe MA and Ms. Ilhan Ali BA (MA Candidate), interacting with women in Mathare informal settlements (Slums) during the implementation of inter-ethnic peacebuilding community-based forums.

- Increased knowledge, skills and techniques for analyzing conflict and developing conflict transformation and conflict resolution strategies for intervening in conflict situations within the local contexts.
- Women enhanced capacity to deal with all forms of manifest and structural violence, inter-ethnic, inter-religious, domestic violence and sexual violence etc.
- SEC continuous engagement with social protection systems and formation institutions promoting gender equality and empowerment of women and girls.
- More than 1,800 women in conflict situations, empowered with livelihood skills; enabling entrepreneurial activities to begin and progress.
- Through holistic counseling, victims-survivors, who have suffered from domestic and sexual violence, empowered with coping skills to effectively overcome negative experiences, developing positive self-development.
- Effective engagement with men (family heads), influential community leaders and community groups, as a strategic approach for ensuring collective responsibility, that is required for addressing domestic and sexual violence the 10 urban informal settlements and remote locations.
- Ongoing engagement with grassroots structures in the urban informal settlements to address the scourge of human and organ trafficking.
- Women becoming activists for peace and positive change in their communities through awareness raising and promotion of increased women's participation in peacebuilding, taking leadership roles, and being empowered decision makers.
- Shalom empowered women advocating for the needs and rights of women in their communities.

- Increased number of local peace actors and youths empowered with analytical skills in Conflict Transformation and Peacebuilding.
- Active participation of the communities at the grassroots level in all peace processes leading to local ownership and sustainability of the collaborative peace product, and the resultant peace dividends.
- Strengthened social and economic structures stemming from the mutual inter-communal peace initiatives.
- Bolstered inter-communal social and cultural relationships; consequently, providing a favourable environment for local trade and farming activities.
- Increased safety for socio-economic infrastructures such as schools (including over 90% uninterrupted learning from violent conflict), health centers and markets where Shalom-SCCRR is implementing Conflict transformation and peacebuilding projects.
- Schools in conflict and marginalized locations experiencing inadequate and dilapidated infrastructures benefiting from the Shalom-SCCRR schools/educational projects which include construction of standard classrooms, sanitation and hygiene facilities, water supply systems, Solar Lighting systems, teaching and learning materials etc. This has improved: sitting ratios where 1 desk was shared by 4 to 5 learners to1:1, health of pupils and students and conducive rooms for teaching and learning among other outcomes.
- Enhanced culture of peace in schools through establishment of Peace Clubs whose Patrons and Members have been trained on Shalom-SCCRR Peace Education Syllabus championing for change of attitudes and behaviour from violence to coexistence, tolerance and harmonious inter-communal development.
- More women (60% in Shalom-SCCRR Peacebuilding projects) are active negotiators in peace processes at the grassroots level within their traditional ethnic communities and in the Urban Informal Settlements.
- Changed attitudes, perceptions and behavior between rival ethnic communities leading to improved levels of trust, cooperation and collaboration, resulting to mutually shared development in areas such as education and livelihood activities.
- Increased capacity of key local influential opinion shapers to prevent the increasing threat of youth radicalization and religious ideological extremism.
